Models for Stakeholder Interaction Around Issues

Leading by Convening: Meeting to Co-Create Tools
WHY IS DIALOGUE AN IMPORTANT STRATEGY?

- There are gaps between research, policy and practice.
- To implement practices as envisioned we need to develop shared meaning.
- To create shared meaning, we need to understand what others see in an issue.
- Dialogue is a way to learn what others see in an issue and share our own perceptions.
- Implementation demands dialogue.

HOW CAN YOU CREATE DIALOGUE?

- Invite the stakeholders to select a relevant and useful document on the issue under consideration.
- Read the document and reflect on the issues.
- Exchange perspectives on the issues.
- Generate reaction questions that will permit stakeholders in the field to express their perspective.
- Generate application questions that will help stakeholders in the field to use the dialogue to build new understanding or take action on an issue.
REACTION QUESTIONS HELP STAKEHOLDERS EXPRESS THEIR PERSPECTIVES

- Reaction questions are intended to help people make their mental models explicit.
- They are designed to help people see that there are multiple perspectives that need to be bridged for the practice to be successfully implemented.
- Reaction questions should help participants appreciate the differences in perspective across roles and provide insight into the shared interests that could unite them.

APPLICATION QUESTIONS HELP PEOPLE THINK ABOUT THE FUTURE STATE OF PRACTICE

• Application questions should generate ideas about how to find out what is currently in progress, become more knowledgeable and/or move forward.

• Application questions move us toward shared action.
